

Discover & Learn

Locate, select and organise information to support the key question/learning intention.

Where can I find the information required?

Is the information selected valid and relevant?

How do I record and organise the selected information?

This step may involve:

- identifying the range of information available (print, digital, human, organisations - Pathfinders) and developing the skills to navigate and use this form of information. (eg reading web addresses)
- locating information and assessing the reliability (eg Evaluating websites – Kathy Schrock’s 5Ws: Who, what, where when and why)
- exploring options for recording notes (graphic organisers)
- learning to recognise relevant information
- recording resources used (writing bibliographies)
